Pregnancy
Mobile Application

This application is for pregnant women. It provides highly trusted information to help the women and their babies to have a safe and healthy pregnancy. This application gives expecting parents a comprehensive guide through all stages of pregnancy, it's designed to make the journey of this exciting time even more special.

The QA team documented test scenarios as soon as the product specifications were ready & in parallel with the design phase. Test cases were exposed to the developers, which gave the team better insight into the acceptance criteria and allowed them to troubleshoot unit testing and other issues more efficiently. To map the requirement, we maintained a Traceability Matrix to align test cases.

As a result, the client got several benefits, where the application rated as 4.5/5 on Google Play Store. Vast Android OS compatibility resulted in 10+ million application users.
